The Real Nappy Campaign is on Facebook!

In order to keep up with technology and the changing way people interact with each other The Real Nappy Campaign has set up a profile on Facebook.

On this page we can create events, post videos and chat with other real nappy enthusiasts.

If you are already a Facebook member you can see our profile if not you will have to register first and then search for The Real Nappy Campaign.

The Facebook logo, consisting of the word 'facebook' in a white, lowercase, sans-serif font, centered within a dark blue rectangular background.

The good work of volunteers & agents

We have all been busy since April of this year and with a little help from me 4 real nappy experts are now attending ante natal talks in 5 hospitals to give parents information on real nappies and their benefits. We still have a few other areas to sort out but hopefully soon we will have nappy talks at all ante natal classes that are happening in Wales!

We now have 19 agents in Wales and 17 retailers selling real nappies and 6 real nappy manufacturers.

If you would like to get involved please contact Sian for more details.

Real Nappy Calendar update

The closing date for entries for the calendar was 27th June. Golly Slatter then picked 13 babies and toddlers and are setting up photo shoots as we speak.

Thank you to all of those who sent in entries and congratulations to the winners.

The calendars will ready by the end of 2007.

Events

The Real Nappy Campaign has attended a few events in the last quarter one of those being the National Eisteddfod of Wales. We were invited by TWF, an organisation who promote the use of the Welsh language among parents and young children, to have a stall twice during the Eisteddfod and we also helped Cynnal Cymru out with their sustainable lifestyle stand.
